OSBORN LOCAL ON HERRICK.

If we read correctly the signs of the times, the Republican machine in Ohio has undertaken a most ungracious and unpopular task by forcing Gov. Herrick upon the party and people for a second term. Against Gov. Herrick, as a man, we have no word of criticism, and certainly the confederated churches and temperance people of the state have no controversy with the Republican party, and no criticism of its splendid record—State and National. Unfortunately Gov. Herrick, having the general reputation of "a good man," has allowed himself to become the agent of evil doers, and made for himself the very worst possible records as an executive.

Indeed, if he had confined himself to the duties of his high and honorable office, and executed the laws put in his hands by the legislature, he might now be holding a high place in the confidence of the people, and subtleties and chicanery would not need to be resorted to in order to secure his reelection. But, evidently at the behest of those who had become his master, he assumed prerogatives not his own, or belonging to the official to which the people of the state had invested him, and became a dictator as to what legislation should be had.

In the splendid address of Secretary Taft, at Columbus, he seemed to labor under the impression that the local option legislation in Ohio had been brought about by Gov. Herrick. He has been out of the state and country so much of late, and connected so actively with the broader affairs of the nation that his inattention to local conditions may be excused; but he had evidently been tutored with reference to the "state issues which may play some part in the coming campaign," or he never would have said: "Local option legislation gives Gov. Herrick a just claim to the approval of his fellow citizens, and instead of forming some obstacle to Republican success in the next election, it ought to be and will be a reason for increased majorities."

Now, the fact is, local option, as a principle, was well established in Ohio long before Myron T. Herrick became Governor, as evidence in the township local option law and the Beal law. But people living in the residential portions of cities dominated by the liquor traffic felt that they also had some right to home protection. Hence the Brannock bill. Possibly supposing that such a measure could not pass, and having announced to his alarmed liquor friends that it would not be entertained, he promised a committee of three honorable gentlemen not to use any personal, or official, influence against it. (This is all that was desired by them.) But behold! the Brannock bill was passed; by large majorities in both houses. Then began a system of dictation by the Governor, as to the modifications that must be made on the basis of so called "fairness," but really in the interest of the liquor traffic, or he could use the newly acquired veto power of his office against it. Under this threat some modifications were made, but others demanded were refused, and so we have the Brannock Law—better than nothing, but not nearly so good as it would have been if Gov. Herrick had kept his word by letting it alone, save to complete the action of the Legislature, voicing the sentiment of the people, by his official signature.

This chapter would seem to be humiliation enough for the great state of Ohio, and the Republican

When there was a strong popular demand that Gov. Herrick be removed to private life, the bosses got in their work and said in effect, "We'll show you who runs Ohio politics." And now they say to the Republican voters of the state: "You must be loyal to your party." Merciful heavens! If loyalty to party means simply to vote into party; but let us go a little farther, office those whom the bosses select, then has "government of the people, by the people, and for the people" perished in Ohio.

But look again. Anticipating the form, at least, of a convention, Gov. Herrick, with an evident purpose to capture the moral elements of the state for his cause, engaged Rev. Dr. Morgan Wood, a retired and eloquent Congregational minister of Cleveland, to present his name to the convention. The matter was noted by the press throughout the state and was regarded as settled. Indeed, Dr. Wood was working on his speech, and is said to have promised a copy to a certain Cleveland paper at an early date, when King Cox came upon the scene and said: "No, it won't do." Mr. Herrick protested, said it would embarrass him to change, etc., but Cox only said louder "NO." Herrick trembled like a scared rabbit and yielded, and Dr. Wood was unceremoniously hustled off the platform.

We are giving these facts upon no less authority than the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, which ought to know whereof it affirms, and will be recognized as the exponent of orthodox Republicanism. We pause then, in the face of a great humiliation, simply to ask: Is this the kind of a man Ohio wants in the chair of its Chief Executive? Do we want a man who apparently has no mind of his own, but is owned and dominated by one George B. Cox of Cincinnati? The voter will have his chance in November, for "ballots execute the freeman's will as judgements do the will of God."

A CARD.

A large and sympathetic concourse of people assembled Saturday June 10th at 2 o'clock at the M. E. Church in Cedarville, to pay their last tribute of respect to the remains of Miss Della Mae Ford. The services were conducted by her pastor, Dr. H. C. Middleton, also a part was taken by her Sunday School Supt. and the Epworth League.

The casket was borne by her class of young ladies, and the flower girls who carried large scarfs of beautiful cut flowers, were also members of her class. The choir rendered beautiful and appropriate music. Born and reared here, and always of a jovial and courteous disposition she will be sadly missed by her many friends, and so suddenly cut down in life by such a dreadful accident, this calamity has touched the hearts of the community. Miss Della was a member of the M. E. Church for years, and also a member of the Sunday School and Epworth League.

The League and her Sunday School class contributed beautiful floral designs. The flowers were of the most beautiful and to the observer it seemed as though she was literally buried in flowers.

With her beautiful pink brocade casket, with its pink chiffon lining and flowers and the beautiful ferns and potplants which surrounded the casket, and the calm expression of her face gave one the impression that she was only resting.

The afflicted father and sorrowing mother, and the entire family has the sincere sympathy of the community.

A Friend.

I. O. O. F. BANQUET

The members of the I. O. O. F. gave a banquet in Barber's hall Wednesday evening, there being about 140 present. A crowd of twenty-eight from Xenia came up and greatly enjoyed the festivities. A three course supper was served. Mr. C. W. Crouse, gave the address of welcome. Mrs. Weidner and Mrs. Sheely of Xenia, both spoke of the daughters of Rebecca, it being the intention of organizing a lodge here soon. Dr. H. C. Middleton, made the closing address. Music was furnished by the K. of P. band.

COLT SHOW.

The Cedarville Horse Company will give a colt show Saturday afternoon, August 5th, at Field's livery barn. In the show none of the members of the company will be allowed to show for prizes. A horseman from a distance though not yet selected will be the judge. These shows will be an annual event. The first prize will be a free service fee valued at $20; second, $15 on a service fee; third, $10 on a service fee.

SOME OF THE TESTIMONY.

The following is what the three principal witnesses had to say as to the death of Miss Della Ford before the Coroner's investigation.

Nellie McClain, a companion of the dead girl who was miraculously saved from a like fate, made a statement to the coroner in which she said there were two freight trains at the crossing and the two engines were facing each other, pretty close together. The east bound freight was clear across the crossing. She said: "We waited awhile on the freight. We were on the south side of the train and the west side of the street. The trainman on the east bound engine, motioned for us to come on and said there was no danger, so we started and I got to the main track and the trainman on the west bound engine grabbed me and held me. I do not know where Della was I was so scared. The two men sitting on the engine had no conversation with us at all."

Ben Kennedy, the brakeman who saved the life of Nellie McClain, told his version of the affair, saying he was sitting on the pilot of the engine talking to Charlie Griesinger, the fireman, when he looked and saw the girls pass. He heard No. 14 whistle for the girls and he sprang up just in time to grab the smaller one and pull her from the track. The other girl was thrown 20 feet and No. 14, the fast train stopped after it struck her.

John Lore, of Cedarville, an eye witness to the accident said:

"I was in a buggy and came to the little harness shop at Sterrett's elevator. I was on the south side of the track and saw the girls across the street. The train going east was standing clear across the crossing and the engines were about 80 feet apart, or maybe not quite so far. The east bound engine was across the sidewalk about 20 feet. There were two men sitting on the pilot of the west bound train and one of the men said to the girls to 'Come on through.' The biggest girl did not seem to want to talk. She turned toward the wire fence and stood there a few minutes and then turned again facing the train going to Columbus, and then a big man with blue overalls and jacket and cap on standing on the ground near the engine, said, 'Come on,' and the girls looked at each other, and he said, 'Come on' again. The girls then started. They came across the street at an angle and this man said something more when the largest girl started back. The two men told them to come on. They went on and when they got between the two engines on the south track the steam popped off on one of the engines and just about that time I heard the passenger train whistle. When the steam blew off the girls started to run, when I saw one of the men grab the smaller girl and pull her back and the other man tried to grab the larger one but missed her, when the train struck her. It wasn't more than two or three seconds from the time the steam blew off until the train struck her. The train was across the crossing when I drove up and I was there 5 or 10 minutes. If the men had let the girls alone they would have waited, as the larger one did not seem to want to cross."

COUNCIL MEETING.

Council met in regular session Monday evening all members being present. The regular monthly bills were allowed. A resolution was passed instructing the street committee to make the change in J. H. Wolford's gutter and one half of the expense to be paid for by the corporation. This is by reason of a gutter being down different the last grade established. Another resolution passed was for property holders on Main street widening their sidewalks two feet and that cement gutters and curb be put in. Some of the members of council voted against the widening of the sidewalks two feet owing to the present narrowness of the street.

G. A. R. THANKS.

In behalf of Currier Post, I hereby return their sincere thanks to all who in any way contributed in making Memorial services so successful in 1905. Especially are we under obligation to Dr. Gibson, Dr. Middleton and Rev. Milligan, for their excellent addresses, also the W. R. C. for flowers and the quartette and K. of P. band for their excellent music so appropriate for the occasion. Respectfully
W. M. Harbison, Commander.

DR. SAMUEL COLLINS.

Word has been received here of the death of Dr. Samuel Collins, of Pittsburgh, his death occurring on Tuesday afternoon. The body will be brought to Xenia on Friday, where the funeral will take place from the home of Mr. J. W. Collins. Dr. Collins was born in this county on the farm now occupied by Mr. Arch Anderson, Sept. 28, 1831. He was married to Miss Jane S. Taylor, of Hanover, Ind., in 1848 but she was called from in 1901. Dr. Collins was one of the prominent ministers in the United Presbyterian church and a man that gave liberally of his means for church and educational purposes.

HEALTH NOTICE.

Section 2125, Revised Statutes provides that attending physicians shall report certain diseases to the boards of health, within whose jurisdiction such cases are found. In addition to the list of diseases given therein, the section also provides that physicians shall report such other diseases as may be "required by the State Board of Health to be reported."

At a meeting of the State Board of Health held April 28th, 1905, it was voted to add CHINCHIN-SPIRAL MENINGITIS to the list of diseases which physicians are required to report to the local authorities. You should have this announcement made in one or more papers of general circulation in your community.

In taking this action, the Board does not mean to class this disease among the contagious diseases. It is not thought to be contagious, and there is no good proof that it may be communicated from one person to another. The State Board, therefore, will not require quarantine or other preventive measures usually followed in contagious diseases. The health authorities of the city of New York, where the disease has been widely prevalent, have not considered it necessary to enforce such measures. As it is not absolutely certain, however, that this disease may not rarely, under unknown conditions, be communicated from one person to another, there can be no objection if your board of health deems it necessary, to provide for isolation of the patient, disinfection of the house and a private burial in such cases.

SUIT AGAINST GAS COMPANY.

The Board of Commissioners of Greene county have brought an action in the Court of Common Pleas against the Buckeye Gas Co., which is about to construct a pipe line for natural gas across Greene county, running through the townships of Ross, Cedarville, Xenia and Beaver-creek, laying and maintaining its pipe lines across certain public roads, bridges, ditches, etc.

The petition says the gas company has never acquired the right of way to lay its pipes and the commissioners have respectfully notified the company not to so construct its pipes without first acquiring the right. The petition says that the Gas Company has entered upon the coun-road extending from Xenia to Cedarville and Jackson road and have dug up same and have laid and constructed pipes and threatens to operate same, whereby the county has suffered damages to amount of $500. It is asked that the company be enjoined from proceeding further with the work and that it be commanded to take up and remove the pipes already laid and for judgment for $500.

Robert Dabney, colored, of Springfield and employed on the building of the new bridge at "deep hill" west of town had his right leg broken just above the ankle, Tuesday. He was engaged in unloading a wheelbarrow load of cement when in some manner the load fell on his foot with the above result. He was taken to Springfield and placed in the City Hospital. Dr. M. I. March set the broken member.

Ed Moran, the veteran horse buyer, of Cincinnati sent out a good lot of horses last Saturday that he had purchased in this vicinity. Among them was a "Snap Shot" a very promising four-year-old that was purchased of Mr. Andrew Winter at a good round figure.

COLLEGE COMEDY.

The two plays given at the opera house last Friday evening, by the members of the Philadelphian and Philosophic literary societies, were well received by the audience, and were two very creditable performances. The house was well sold out and a handsome sum realized by each society. The opening performance was "Eh? What's It?" and it served as a very amusing sketch. The comedy "All Tangled Up" was one of the best home talent performances seen on the local stage. The parts were certainly well assigned as all the characters were excellently portrayed. The music for the evening was furnished by the K. of P. band. The audience was more than pleased with the performances and it is to be hoped that next year something a little heavier will be undertaken. Mr. Woodbridge Ustick sang two vocal solos that were well applauded. Mr. Ustick's songs are welcome by Cedarville audiences.

BOOKER T. AT WILBERFORCE.

Booker T. Washington addressed a large crowd Monday evening at Wilberforce, it being the class night for the three literary societies. The immense crowd could not all be accommodated in the tent and many were forced to stand on the outside. His address was along the line of the elevation of the race and his burning words of eloquence certainly reached the heart of every one present. He left after the exercises, accompanied by his wife and secretary for Mass.

THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1905.

Philadelphia has been having a little experience with "tainted money" on her own account.

It is doubly dangerous to cut green fruit these days. The doctors are all so fond of the appendicitis knife.

The President went back down on his Panama-open-market policy, but congress may.

The unanimity with which the nations of the earth are turning to the United States as the world power most likely to be called upon to further the cause of peace between Russia and Japan, and the consensus of opinion among diplomats the world over that no nation is so well fitted to conduct the delicate negotiations which must attend the birth of that peace movement so earnestly desired by the humanitarians of the world, must prove gratifying to every patriotic American. At this crisis in the affairs of the Muscovite Empire it is evident that Great Britain and France are debarred from acting the role of peace-maker because of their alliances with the respective belligerents. Germany because of the close friendship of the Kaiser for the Czar, would unquestionably prove persona non grata to Japan and of the great powers the United States alone remains. Moreover, throughout the prolonged hostilities this country has preserved the most perfect neutrality between the contending powers and President Roosevelt has, all along, displayed a tact which has rendered it possible for both the Russian and Japanese diplomatic representatives in Washington to frequent the White House with entire absence of constraint or formality. It is also suggested by the representatives of the foreign powers in Washington, that President Roosevelt's reputation as a champion of the square deal has extended so far beyond the confines of this country that both Russia and Japan would experience no hesitation in entrusting their interests to his solicitous care. For these reasons it seems probable that if peace negotiations are instituted, President Roosevelt's offer of his good offices will be called into requisition.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: Beautiful is an adjective applied chiefly to brides, heroines of novels and ladies in distress. The word is derived from the French word "beau", meaning a cocker, a peach, a lallapalooze. It is employed principally by society editors, novelists, newspaper reporters and poets, and holds its age and shape well in spite of activity and overwork. The only novelists who never used the word was Rhoda Broughton. Her heroine, Bellinda, was green-eyed, freckled and cantankerous, and is the only unattractive heroine on record, just as the count in Wilkie Collins' "The Woman in White" is the only fat villain. The only poet who never used it is Swinburne. He always compares his heroines to serpents, they are so wise and sinuous. The society editor or newspaper reporter who has never worked it to a silver edge does not live, contrary to the rules of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Inoffensive Adjectives. One of the deepest mysteries of modern life is, since every bride is beautiful, how does it come that they are so many ugly married women?

Otto McDorman, guardian of Harry T. Lawrence P. and Maybelle McDorman has brought suit against H. O. Core, executor of the will of J. H. McDorman who died March 17, 1905, leaving a large estate which he devised by will, his daughter, Della Core, getting 200 acres of land, and one-half of the residue of the estate to the grand-children. He directed in his will that the estates given to the wards should be held in common until each should arrive at the age of 21 years. She says that these infant legatees are without money, or means of their own and that she as such guardian has no money with which to clothe, educate or maintain them, or at least a sum wholly insufficient. She says that the testator intended that the children should have a comfortable and sufficient maintenance during their minority, and she asks the court to make an order requiring the trustee to pay enough to provide comfortably for their support, which she thinks should be about $5,000 annually.

BABY'S FINGER PRINTS.

The possible use in finger print identification recently led to a curious question being put to Dr. Francis Galton, the great finger print expert, by the police authorities of a foreign state.

They had received information, they said, that a baby who was heir to a great title and estate was in danger of being kidnapped and held for ransom. Supposing this should happen and the baby eventually be restored, would finger prints taken before the abduction be sufficient to identify the baby and prove that he was not a kidnapping?

Dr. Galton's answer was that it is exceedingly difficult to print from the fingers of young infants. From about six years of age and upward, however, there is no difficulty, and the prints would be sufficient for identification purposes. — London Express.

Gallant Judge Nicholls.
South Carolina members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the national convention of which was held in Washington, are very much pleased that a lady from this state, Mrs. Nicholls of Spartanburg, was elected as a vice president general of the society. The ladies were so immensely pleased that they sent the following telegram to Judge Nicholls of Spartanburg:

You are now the husband of a vice president-general.
SOUTH CAROLINA DELEGATION.
Judge Nicholls was quick to respond, and this was his telegram:

I appreciate the honor South Carolina has been instrumental in conferring on Mrs. Nicholls. For my part, I accept the reflected honor and promise implicit obedience to her excellency the vice president-general.
MRS. NICHOLLS' HUSBAND.

The Planet Mars.
Flammarion, the famous astronomer, says of the planet Mars: "The climate is very mild. There are no gales, while the atmosphere is very light, with scarcely any clouds. The inhabitants enjoy fine weather, the climate being something like that of Davos Platz, in Switzerland—dry and clear. We know the globe of Mars perfectly—in fact, far better than the earth."

STRANGE ADVICE!
An honest German man, who has been in the United States for many years, has given unusual advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. "We have told them if they did not receive any special benefit after the use of one 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. We did not ask them to urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in the advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchitis or lung troubles, and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. (New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.)

Season and fifteen-day excursion tickets may be obtained from ticket agents of the Pennsylvania Lines. Information about Winona Lake, the season's program, hotel accommodations, etc., can be ascertained from S. C. Dickey, Secretary and General Manager, Winona Lake, Ind. —5-12.

Saved by Dynamite.
Sometimes, a flaming city is saved by dynamiting a space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes, a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray, of Calhoun, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake nights. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which eased her cough gave her sleep, and finally cured her." Strictly scientific cure for bronchitis and La Grippe. At all drug stores, price 50c and $1.00; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

Neuralgia And Other Pain.
All pain in any disease is nerve pain, the result of a turbulent condition of the nerves. The stabbing, lacerating, darting, burning, agonizing pain that comes from the prominent nerve branches, or sensory nerves, is neuralgia, and is the "big brother" of all the other pains.
Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills rarely ever fail to relieve these pains by soothing these larger nerves, and restoring their tranquility.
Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills leave no bad after-effects, and are a reliable remedy for every kind of pain, such as headache, backache, stomachache, sciatica, rheumatism and neuralgia. They also relieve Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Car-Sickness, and Distress after eating.
For many years I have been a constant sufferer from neuralgia and headache, and have never been able to obtain any relief from various headache powders and capsules, until I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They always cure my headache in five minutes time. FRANK R. SWINGLEY, Kansas City, Mo., Editor, Globe, Nov. 1904.
Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit it. It fails he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

SOCIETY PEOPLE ARE WEDDED.

At the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Pollock there occurred an unusually pretty wedding in the marriage of their daughter Miss Julia Anderson to Mr. Arthur Gibson Brown of Monmouth, Ill., Wednesday.

The decorations were on an elaborate scale, pink and white being the color scheme. The artistic hand of the florist was evident every where for the immense bank of palms, and white lilies, roses, daisies, and smilax. The floral decorations with the softly shaded lights made the scene one long to be remembered by the nuptial guests.

At six o'clock Miss Bess Blackburn of Monmouth, Ill., sang "Wilt Thou Be Mine?" after which came the Mendelssohn wedding march played by Miss Edna of Aledo, Ill. Rev. J. H. Brown of Monmouth father of the groom and Rev. O. H. Milligan, the bride's pastor preceded the party to the altar in the bay window of the library.

The bridegroom preceded the rest of the party, accompanied by his best man, Arthur J. Grier, of San Francisco, Cal. They were followed by the matron of honor, Mrs. Oscar Smith of Cedarville whose gown was of Paris mousseline over white taffeta. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Miss Margaret Thompson, niece of the bride, was the dainty little flower girl. She was dressed in pure white and carried a basket of daisies.

Then came the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She is at all times a charming girl but on this occasion looked a lovely picture in her dainty white lace gown. She wore a veil thrown back from the face, and the bridal bouquet was a shower of swansons. The ceremony was read by Rev. Brown and prayer by Rev. Milligan.

A four course wedding supper followed the ceremony. At the bride's table besides Mr. and Mrs. Brown were seated: Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Smith of Cedarville; Miss Blackburn, and Miss Isabel Stewart, of Monmouth; Miss Mable Harris, of Springfield, O.; Miss Mary Eakin, of Aledo, Ill.; Miss Edna Stevenson, Xenia; Miss Maud Coulter, Bellefontaine; and Miss Zola Downard, Cedarville; Mr. Grier, San Francisco; George J. Rogers, Wheeling W. Va.; Arch Currie, Springfield; Benjamin Sebring, Columbus; and Herman Eavey, Xenia. When the bride's cake was cut, Miss Zola Downard got the button, Mr. Sebring the thimble and Miss Harris the ring.

Among other guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Aiken, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, Colorado Springs; Mrs. Pressley Thompson and children, William and Margaret, of Washington, Pa.; the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown, of Monmouth; Mrs. Elmer Gebby, Bellefontaine.

The large number of presents attest the extensive popularity of the young people. There were numbers of pieces of rich cut glass besides a draft to the bride for $500, the gift of her father and mother.

The couple left on the midnight train for the East and on their return will take up their residence at Monmouth, where the groom has a position on a newspaper. To take the train they drove to Xenia and were accompanied by a number of friends who wanted to give them a good send off. The following cards were distributed among the passengers:

WE HAVE JUST BEEN MARRIED. My name is Julia and his is Arthur—yes it's Arthur Brown, and now my name is Brown; but I don't care, I know lots of nice people by the name of Brown.

This is the first time we were ever married, so that sound advice, well meant, will be thankfully received. Arthur and I are both going on a wedding tour. I think that Arthur is just dear.

ITS FIRST JEWELRY ORDER. Emperor William has made an innovation in the German army by appointing its first Jewish officer. He is the grandson of the late Baron Karl Mayer von Rothschild of Frankfurt-am-Main. The young man was serving as a one year volunteer in a Baden regiment of dragoons stationed at Karlsruhe. He let it be known that he would like to become an officer, of course upon adequate evidence of capacity, but the officers of the regiment turned his application down. When the emperor heard of it he appointed the young man groom of the bedchamber, which makes him an army officer. He will be assigned to a regiment.

DOG WITH HOOF. A dog with hoofs like a cow is owned by Daniel Brown and is a cross between a shepherd and a spaniel. It was purchased by Brown from Miles Dickey, a Panhandle engineer, three years ago when a pup, but not until recently did the hoofs grow on its feet, and the owner is at a loss to know how to account for them. The dog walks across the board floor of the saloon where it is kept there is a sound like the pattering of a couple of children with wooden shoes.—Indianapolis News.

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contain 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in 8-ounce packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ozs." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.

DO YOUR CHILDREN ASK QUESTIONS?

Of course they do. It is their way of learning and it is your duty to answer. You may need a dictionary to aid you. It won't answer every question, but there are thousands to whom it will give you free, clear and definite answers, not about words only, but about things, the sun, the moon, men, places, stories and the like. Then, too, the children can find their own answers. Some of our greatest men have ascribed their power to study of the dictionary. Of course you want the best dictionary. The most critical prefer the New and Enlarged Edition of

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY.

If you have any questions about it write us.
